Experience

• Condominium management web application

Marmat   Costa Rica
May 2022 - April 2023

Web application development going through all software development processes, including requirements gathering, client meetings, full stack development using agile SCRUM methodology and client training.

Technologies used: c# .NET, sql, MVC, Azure DevOps, API to interact with the database.

The application consisted of offering administrators a portal to advertise their condominiums through a catalog filtering by name and location, allowing users to fill out a form to send an email with their data. Administrators are offered multiple maintenance options for many tables.

• Web App pet Adoption

Asociación Colitas   Esparza, Costa Rica
February 2023 - May 2023

Web application development for an animal rescue association.

Technologies used: c# .NET, FireBase, GitHub

The application has a pet catalog that filters by type and allows interested parties to send an email to get in touch. It also has options for administrators such as pet and user maintenance, an email log and registration once the pet has been adopted.
